Friday 30th January 2026

Dear Parents,

...and just like that, January is over! Hopefully, along with longer days we will start to see some better weather.

This week has been another week of great learning in school. We have also been joined by three student teachers from York St. John University – Mr. Gibson, Miss Marshall and Miss Morehead. They will be observing teaching in Year 6 over the next fortnight before returning later in the year to work with us further.

Year 3 and Year 6 had a great afternoon on Wednesday visiting the Gurdwara in Darlington. Our visit to the Gurdwara this week, and the Mandir earlier in the month, are an important part of our RE curriculum and our approach to enhancing the children's experiences of British Values and cultural diversity. Diversity and inclusion are a key part of our school ethos, and the children had a brilliant reflective experience. As always, they behaved impeccably and were incredibly respectful throughout – we are always very proud to take them out on visits!

Have a good weekend.

Mr. Cope

Around the Classes...

Robin Class: This week, we have enjoyed learning more about stars! We have looked at star constellations, created star paintings and used these to enhance our outdoor learning when we go to 'Space' looking for stars! In our story 'How to Catch a star', we have been ordering the story and retelling it using picture prompts whilst in provision, we've been making lists of things we could use to catch a star! In our handwriting, we have been focusing on perfecting some of our graphemes and working very hard at this! We have also been writing short phrases each day to continue building our writing and longer words in phonics sessions.

Kingfisher Class: Kingfisher Class have had another great week. In Maths, we have started to investigate division by exploring equal groups and by sharing & grouping. We have also enjoyed exploring speech in English, and planning and writing our own sequels after being inspired by 'Jim and the Beanstalk'. In Music, we are enjoying listening to different types of music and thinking about how it makes us feel.

Goldfinch Class: A fantastic week for Goldfinch Class with positive attitudes towards all of our learning. We are proud of our focus with Diamond Dash, which is helping with our new maths topic of multiplication and division. We love chanting our 4s and 8s. We added in some beautiful art this week in preparation for our school art gallery at The Station in Richmond. We were very inquisitive during our visit to the Gurdwara Temple and it was lovely to see how much the children enjoyed the visit. We have been reading about 'Earth Shattering Events' which links with our Geography and finally, in French we now know six types of transport.

Partridge Class: Partridges have been absolute Maths whizzes this week, flying through their multiplication topic brilliantly! We have been creators and prepared some self-portraits ready for The Station art exhibition in Richmond. The children also explored reversible and irreversible changes in science through an experiment and finally, we explored our local county by considering how solar and wind farms help produce energy in North Yorkshire!

Woodpecker Class: In Maths this week, we have been subtracting mixed number fractions, using our knowledge of common denominators and improper fractions to help. In English, we have continued working on our balanced arguments, focussing on how we can use evidence to support our arguments when writing about an endangered animal of our choice. On Wednesday, we visited the Gurdwara Temple in Darlington and we were impressed by the children's curiosity, their knowledge and confidence to answer questions but most of all, how well they behaved, showing respect at all times.
